The Hispanic American Society, devoted to the study of contemporary Latin America, Spain, and Portugal, is affiliated with Hispanic American Studies, Stanford University. It cooperates with other related organizations such as the Pacific Coast Council on Latin American Studies, the Pan American Society of San Francisco, and the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese. It endeavors to provide the usual advantages enjoyed by members of professional organizations. Qualified members will be allowed to use the collection of materials about contemporary Latin America, Spain, and Portugal which has been assembled for some years as a necessary concomitant of the monthly preparation of the Hispanic American Report. These materials are hard to collect, and the Stanford archives serve as a central depository. The organ of the society is the Hispanic American Report, which provides an indispensable analysis of developments in Latin America, Spain, and Portugal, and which is sent each month to members.

Please be sure to put this address on all correspondence:

HISPANIC AMERICAN STUDIES, Stanford University, Stanford, California

Propaganda publications of organizations and government departments are welcome and will be carefully studied, but the Report cannot be offered in exchange.

Individual subscription including membership in the Hispanic American Society is $6 per annum (regular member), $10 (sustaining member), and $25 (patron). Individual membership is made available at a low rate in order primarily to facilitate the circulation of the Report among teachers; it is hoped that those who can will subscribe in higher categories. It should be understood that these rates do not apply if an institutional check is sent in payment. Since the cost of everything goes up, and since we wish to save clerical labor, we believe it is mutually advantageous if members send in their subscriptions for several years in advance. Commercial and institutional subscriptions to the Hispanic American Report are $10 per annum, or $25 per annum including the privilege of using the materials on Latin America collected for the Hispanic American Report. Individual issues of the Report may be obtained for $1. Checks should be made payable to the Hispanic American Society, Stanford University. Individuals must send their checks with their application; institutions may if desired be billed. Rates for mailing the Report by air, as well as advertising rates, are provided on request.

FOREWORD

We propose to issue once a year this directory of members of the Hispanic American Society. It is divided into two sections, the first listing individual members, the second institutional members. We ask forbearance if this listing should prove incomplete or inaccurate. It is certainly incomplete. Quite apart from any sins of omission we have committed, certain members living behind various kinds of Curtains have been deliberately left out for obvious reasons. Moreover, this directory does not list those who became members after November 1, 1959. In any case, if your name is omitted, or if you see any obvious lacunae, would you please let us know without delay?

There may well be inaccuracies in the list. Some names and addresses have proved almost indecipherable, and, although we have used the latest techniques and consulted voluminous reference books, we are not sure that our work has been letter-perfect. Moreover, in the interests of efficiency, the names and addresses in our records have frequently been streamlined to the minimum. The result may be fine for an Addressograph plate, but it is somewhat bony and colorless. Next year, if it seems advisable, we will expand the listing to include titles and more complete addresses. Before we go to press a year from now, we will try to find out how each member wishes to have his name listed.

Cherish this little book. It is the Blue Book of those laboring in the field of Hispanic American studies.

HISPANIC AMERICAN STUDIES AT STANFORD UNIVERSITY

The Hispanic American Studies program at Stanford University is an area or regional program in that it concerns itself with a definite area—Spain, Portugal, and Latin America—but this is a cultural rather than a geographical region. Like that old and well-established subject philosophy, it synthesizes several disciplines. It may be compared with other inter-departmental subjects such as biochemistry and engineering mechanics.

The program originated in the language department: the study of a foreign area without a mastery of the language of that area is comparable to engineering without mathematics. More than the ability to decipher a written text is involved. One of the most valuable and indeed most difficult of modern techniques, the use of native informants, requires a good command of the spoken language. Authorities from Spain and Latin America regularly address in Spanish or Portuguese the seminar which prepares the Hispanic American Report and engage in discussion with members of the seminar. The Hispanic American Studies program strives to bridge the dangerous gap between the humanists and the social scientists.

Every program must have a focus, depending on the idiosyncracies of the civilization studied and on the peculiar interests which have developed at any given institution. The predominant obsession of Latin America, Spain, and Portugal today is politics—not the abstract variety which flourishes in more metaphysical lands, but a peculiarly personalist brand, involving a day-to-day struggle in which revolution and unrest are often accompanied in a paradoxical way by economic and social growth. The study of the political, social, and economic development of the area is the theme of the Hispanic American Report, the monthly publication of the program. The training on the Report staff is the core of the advanced program in Hispanic American Studies at Stanford; the minute analysis this provides is as fundamental as the continual use of a microscope by a biologist. Researchers are trained to write for internationally recognized publications. Those who complete satisfactorily at least a year's work on the Report staff receive a certificate.

Geography plays an important part in the program, since it is impossible to understand a civilization without knowing the geographical basis on which it rests. This is especially true of an area such as Latin America, which is so often described as having a "telluric" culture. Other disciplines such as economics, political science, and anthropology contribute to the symposium which constitutes Hispanic American Studies. While the advanced program stresses the contemporary scene, the history requirements in the undergraduate program provide a background for this study. The School of Education is keenly aware of the importance of the academic study of the realities of the contemporary world. Last but not least, the School of Mineral Sciences has several senior professors who have had long experience in Latin America, and, in view of the importance of mining in the political, social, and economic life of Latin America, our relations with that School have been close and cordial.

The requirements for the A.B. and A.M. in Hispanic American Studies are as follows:

BACHELOR OF ARTS

Language: The sequence of reading and composition courses, terminating with third-year Spanish Composition and Conversation (Romanic Languages Sp111, 112, 113)

Civilization: The Hispanic World (Romanic Languages 142–148) ..... 10 units

Geography: Geography of South America (Geography 120, 5 units) and Geography of Middle America (Geography 121, 5 units) ..... 10 units

Literature: Two courses on Spanish or Spanish American Literature ..... 6 units

History: Latin America: the Colonial Period (History 117, 5 units), Latin America since 1810 (History 118, 5 units), Latin America since 1939 (History 175, 3 units), any two courses ..... 8 units

Inter-American Relations: Government and Politics in Latin America (Political Science 128) or Latin America and the United States (Political Science 138) ..... 5 units

Anthropology: Any course in anthropology ..... 4 units

Students who wish to minor in any special field of interest may do so by completing 16 units of work in that field.

MASTER OF ARTS

Candidates for the Master's degree in Hispanic American Studies must fulfill satisfactorily the following requirements:

1. A reading, writing, and oral knowledge of Spanish or Portuguese, and a reading knowledge of the other of these two languages.
2. A satisfactory completion of courses followed. A minimum of 36 units is required with a grade of A or B, not including credit for the thesis.
3. A thesis for which 9 units of credit are granted.
4. The student's program will stress the language, civilization, literature, geography, history, and political affairs of modern Spain and Latin America, with special reference to one of the following areas: Spain and Portugal, Mexico, Central America, the Caribbean islands (Cuba, Haiti, Dominican Republic, Puerto Rico), Gran Colombia (Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador), West Coast countries (Peru, Bolivia, Chile), River Plate countries (Argentina, Uruguay, Paraguay), or Brazil.

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY

There are two Ph.D. programs, one given under Graduate Division, Special Programs, and designed to meet the needs of individual students, the other under the Department of Modern European Languages, for candidates planning to teach Spanish. For further details, write to Hispanic American Studies, Stanford University.

A cumulative index of Vols. I–VII of the Report is available for $3. The earlier volumes of the Report may be obtained on microfilm at $3 a volume from University Microfilms, 313 N. First Street, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Material from the Hispanic American Report may not be reproduced without due acknowledgement

A PORTUGUESE-ENGLISH DICTIONARY

James L. Taylor

Lecturer in Hispanic American Studies, Stanford University

"All who have deplored the unavailability of a servicable comprehensive Portuguese-English dictionary . . . will welcome Mr. Taylor's 60,000-entry answer to this need, and one may expect it to become standard for libraries and for the translator and student. . . . Particularly praiseworthy is its wealth of Portuguese locutions and . . . the up-to-date and idiomatic English equivalents provided. The customary overworking of cognates is avoided with skill and consistency. Excellent, too, is the coverage of vocabulary pertaining to the ethnology, folklore, flora, and fauna of Brazil."—Library Journal.

Large numbers of technical words in the arts and sciences have been included, and the new system of orthography prevailing in Brazil and Portugal has been followed throughout. This dictionary has the special distinction of being the first that makes a serious attempt to cover Brazilian Portuguese. 682 pages, double column. $11.50
